

Job Opening

SHOP SUPERVISOR

Responsible for the repair, maintenance and overhaul of aircraft components received at Cobalt while producing quality products, meeting customer expectations, promoting a safe and clean work environment, encouraging respect among co-workers, achieving company projected goals, and be attentive to your subordinates to prevent re-work.

Responsibilities:

- Obtain a Repairman Certificate and/or A&P License
- Good understanding of Cobalt processes and administrative duties
- Achieve customer commitment dates and/or expectations
- Identify PMA DER candidates to create cost savings and increase profitability
- Review daily time and attendance
- Determine estimated ship dates conflicting with a customer commitment date
- Establish close communication with associated departments
- Complete part requisitions on an accurate and timely manner
- Provide on the job technical training to all employees as required
- Provide work scope information for job quotations
- Interface with shop leads on repair options and requirements
- Consistently complete work orders within assigned goals and target dates
- Track labor hours verses target hours accrued on work orders
- Responsible for the impact of quality workmanship and pursue aggressive productivity practices
- Communication through means of; face to face, telephone, email, and status report updates

Requirements:

- Must have a minimum of 5-7 years Aviation experience; preferably in a repair station environment
- Should have decision and problem-solving skills, while thinking creatively
- Practiced at interpreting various types of information to others
- Possess good understanding of all technical data (CMM, SRM, drawings, etc.)
- Must possess skillful communication etiquette
- Ability to process all repairs/overhauls per FAA guidelines and requirements

If you would like to apply for this position, feel you meet these requirements and can complete the responsibilities set forth, send your resume to:

HR@Cobalt-Aero.com or fill out an application at one of our facility locations.

190 Elmwood Dr.
Hot Springs, AR 71901

2390 Airport Rd.
Hot Springs, AR 71913

Ph: 501-623-7211